¹ While interest rates obtained on funds placed at receiving institutions under the DDM, CDMX, and RTID programs may, under certain circumstances, outperform cash alternatives, such as money market funds, the primary objective of the DDM, CDMX, and RTID programs is to provide customers with convenient access to expanded FDIC or NCUA insurance coverage on their funds (and not for investment enhancements or higher rates of returns or profits).

² Under the DDM and RTID programs, funds are deposited into demand deposit accounts (DDAs) or money market deposit accounts (MMDAs) at receiving banks or share draft accounts or share accounts at receiving credit unions. While your customers' funds are held in MMDAs or share accounts, the return of your customers' funds from the DDM and RTID programs may be delayed as, under federal regulations, the receiving institution is permitted to impose a delay of up to seven days on any withdrawal request from an MMDA or share account.
